

APPENDIX I
SUMMARY OF THE NOVEL

School of Fear is school that helps treat children in reducing or eliminating their phobia in Summerstone. But this time, Mrs. Wellington, the headmistress of School of Fear could not help them because she, herself, gets some problems. Madeleine, Theo, Lulu, Garrison and Hyacinth have their own phobias, so that is why their parents send them to the School of Fear in order to heal them from their phobias by the hand helped of Mrs. Wellington. But, someday on the particular morning, Mrs. Wellington was looking for Madeleine to tell what is really going on to her. She feels so weird and need some helps from Fearians (a name for all her students). She prepared to face her two greatest fears which are Abernathy, her stepson, who hates her so much because he suffers novercaphobia that is fear of stepmothers and then Sylvie Montgomery, a nosy reporter who uses her nose to get information, she wants to run the story of School of Fear with all-ashamed-secrets of Mrs. Wellington, Abernathy and Fearians to win the Snoopulitzer, contest for reporter in Summerstone. Mrs. Wellington and Fearians have to act like normal people even though they all were so stressful to think about all of this. Fearians were always trying to reunite Mrs. Wellington and Abernathy but it is always failed. And then, Mrs. Wellington asked for help to her friend, Basmati, a contrary man who has a school named Contrary Conservatory. Mrs. Wellington, Abernathy and her students go to there and meet Fitzzy, Bard, and Herman which are Basmati's students. After Mrs. Wellington tells her greatest fears to Basmati, Basmati will help her with a deal. If Mrs. Wellington can bring back his Toothpaste (his canary bird), he will unite Mrs. Wellington and Abernathy, but if she cannot bring the bird to him, he will separate them and make Abernathy hate her worsely. Besides that, Fearians are also help Mrs. Wellington to find a way out of her fears but instead of that, the Fearians heal themselves from their own fears and phobias unconsciously. And then because Toothpaste does not found yet, Basmati with his contrary characteristic tells Abernathy about Mrs. Wellington contrarily in order to separate them in front of Sylvie Montgomery. Luckily, Abernathy does not believe with the statement which is made by Basmati and denying Sylvie's questions on him. Then, Toothpaste is found inside Sylvie's coat. Finally, Basmati gets back his canary bird, Mrs. Wellington unites with Abernathy, and Fearians are going to graduate.

BIOGRAPHY OF GITTY DANESHVARI

GittyDaneshvari was born in Los Angeles to an Iranian father and an American mother. She currently lives in New York. As a child, GittyDaneshvari talked and talked and talked. Whether yammering at her sister through a closed door or bombarding her parents with questions while they attempted to sleep, she absolutely refused to stop chattering until finally there was no one left to listen. In need of an outlet for her thoughts, Gitty began writing and she has not stopped since.

After mining her extensive, and we do mean extensive, list of childhood phobias (everything from spiders to alien invasions) in the School of Fear series, Gitty decided to revisit the time she was rejected from her scholl's Talented and Gifted program for being too average in The League of Unexceptional Children series. And in the middle, she spent a few years hanging out with the children of monsters (full disclosure: while her parents are weird, they are not technically monsters) with the Monster High: Ghoulfriends series.

Gitty has sold over five million books worldwide. She currently lives between Madrid, Spain, and New York City with her family and her French bulldog Marvin (as well as a shrine to her late English bulldog...and books...and her family...and Chinese food. And yes, she still talks too much.

There are many books written by GittyDaneshvari, such as :
