Hilde tries to calm him down and she asks for a girl's name. She tells Hilde that her name is Lilly. While eating together, Uldolf's father, Gedim asks Uldolf about this girl and Uldolf does not know anything about her. Gedim assumes that she is an important person and Order is looking for. Because of pity for this girl and she has not fully recovered from her wounds, Gedim also let her stay with him but to avoid suspicion, they change Lilly's hair color to blonde.

One day, food reserves run low and they need food to meet their daily needs. Seeing that Lilly feels guilty. In the morning, Hilde wakes up and is surprised that Lilly is not in her bed. Hilde looks for Lilly and sees Lilly standing outside. When they approach Lilly, they are surprised that in front of Lilly is an elk carcass with deep claw wounds. They are all curious about what Lilly has found. Then, they all decide to take an elk carcass to home to provide them with food reserves. Before long, rumors circulate that enormous wild beasts are surrounding the fortress of Johannisburg.

Some time passed, Lilly has recovers even though she still has trouble speaking and doesn't remember her past. Working in Uldolf's fields has been helped since Lilly's existence. One day, there is an accident that happens to Uldolf and Lilly comes to help him. When helping Uldolf, for a moment Lilly's memory returns, makes Lilly frightened and run to the Forest. It starts to rain. Gedim knowing this and tells Uldolf to bring Lilly back.

During the forest, Lilly cries in fear between trees. After walking into forest, Lilly meets a group of Teutonic Order soldiers. Soldiers ask Lilly why she is here. But because of seeing Lilly's beauty, there is sexual attraction towards Lilly. Then, Lilly has tied to a tree and soldiers takes off all of Lilly's clothes. Lilly is very scared to see a group of men who are about to rape her, and finally, Lilly transforms back into werewolf form and attacks a group of soldiers. When Uldolf follows Lilly's trail into forest, he is suddenly shocked to see footprints of Teutonic Order soldiers. Uldolf worries that Lilly will be caught by soldiers. Shortly thereafter, Uldolf discovers a familiar shard of iron from an armor of Order's knight. Then Uldolf hears a sound of soldiers screaming. Uldolf finds some of the same claw marks as wounds on an elk carcass around his farm. Uldolf tries to get closer to source of a sound in fear. But he sees a few soldiers of Order slaughtered by these beasts. Then he finds Lilly naked next to pile of corpses and Uldolf takes her. Rain is getting heavier and they can't go home. They finally find shelter in a cave until raining stopped. Then they back home safely.

A few days later, leader of Order's soldiers, Ernhard receives a report from a survivor of an incident in the forest, decides to find and arrest Lilly. Uldolf decides to go to town of Johannisburg to find out what is going on about Lilly and rumors of a roaming beast. When Uldolf is leaves, a group of Order troops comes to Gedim's house to take them all to Johannisburg. Lilly hides when soldiers arrive, but under pressure, Lilly runs off to catch up with Uldolf. Lilly leaves for Johannisburg disguised as a passenger in a Caravan. Lilly meets Uldolf in town and lives together at the inn.

When Gedim and his family reach the city, they all gathered together with other Prusans. Prusan crowds are surrounded by Order's numerous knights. One of the knights asks Gedim about a woman with red hair. But he replies that he doesn't know. But a knight doesn't believe it and leaves him. Another one asks Hilde about her family. Hilde is an innocent girl and is forced to name her family members and say Lilly is with her. Then Order Knights decide to arrest the entire Gedim family and force him to tell where Lilly is.

Seeing a large number of soldiers gathered, Uldolf tries to get out from the walls of Johannisburg. But the guards are very tight. Uldolf looks suspicious with a woman covered in a hood. Then, they find out that that girl is Lilly. Uldolf who tries to protect Lilly, is knocked back by one of the knights. Not accepting seeing this incident, Lilly transforms into a werewolf and saves Uldolf from the knights. Knowing that Lilly can turn into a werewolf, he is afraid, and at the same time, his memory about his past returns, and he remembers everything about Lilly who has killed his entire family in the past. Lilly tries to apologize for past events because it is all an order from her master, Ernhard. Uldolf learns that Gedim and others are captured by Order. As Lilly's apology for causing trouble, Lilly offers herself in exchange for Uldolf family's freedom.

The next day, Uldolf comes to Order headquarters with Lilly. Initially according to what is planned, but Order is cheating them. Order knows that Uldolf is the son of the Medjan tribe's chief whom Order has previously defeated. Uldolf can't possibly catch Lilly alone. They capture Uldolf and set them on fire amid other Prusans. When the arson sentence began, the entire Uldolf family is tied to a log, including Lilly. A bishop is present at this incident and argues that it is Uldolf who protects a beast. Then punishment begins and Uldolf is burned first. When fire is lit, everyone present bowed and prayed. At the same time, Lilly manages to escape from silver ties and chains that bounded on her. Lilly turns into a werewolf and ruins an event. At that moment, Prusan crowds rebel against Teutonic order. Frightened, a bishop leaves with several troops and takes Hilde to the top of the fort. Lilly also saves Gedim and Burthe, then Uldolf. Then she goes up upstairs to save Hilde. Many of Order's troops die when they face Lilly and many of them surrender to rebels. Lilly moves fast and finally, she can save Hilde. Then, a building that caught fire makes it fragile, then collapsed. Everyone has left a building including Gedim, Burthe, and Uldolf. Lilly is still on roof of a building, jumps off from roof before collapsing, hugging Hilde tightly. Lilly and Hilde manage to survive even though Lilly is unconscious due to injuries and tires from her transformation.

Six months have passed since that incident. City is free from church rule, and all Prusans can freely enter a city. Lilly is recovered from previous incident and lives together with Uldolf. Lilly and Uldolf leave to the lake where two of them first met. Lilly gives Uldolf a silver knife and asks him to kill her. But Uldolf doesn't want to.
