Suddenly, the black market traders shoot him and his father. Massimo Torricelli father died from his injuries. This tragedy caused him to experience trauma. 5 years later, as he had grown up, he became a rich man and lived in luxury. However, due to the trauma experienced as a teenager, make him has a rude and arbitrary nature. He also learned no to trust anyone around him and to be vigilant at all time.

Laura Biel who worked as a sales director in the hotel, she is unhappy with her relationship with her boyfriend named Martin. He was mostly busy and did not pay attention to her. To celebrate her 29th birthday, she travelled to Sicily, Italy with him and her friends from Warsaw, Poland. Her relationship with her boyfriend started to become strained due to infidelity. She left the celebration at the restaurant to find the washroom. She met Massimo Torricelli for the first time. He in his seductively deep voice asked her. She tried to manage to find her way back and did not engage him. The next morning, she argued with her boyfriend and left the hotel to spend some time alone. After spending her time alone, she got difficulties wanted to return to find her way back. She lost in the streets of Sicily, Italy. She was taken away by a group of men. No one realized that she had been kidnapped secretly by Massimo Torricelli. She was shocked by the kidnapping that happened to her. He held her captive in his luxurious villa like a palace.

He falling in love at a first sight and couldn't forget the way she looked. He explained to her about the deal. He had her pictures and hung them on the wall. She was the girl he dreamed. He wanted to make sure her that they were destined to be together for eternity. Even though he was used getting everything done in his way, he was thought that in the case of love, he should not be forceful with her. Therefore, he would keep her in captivity for the next 365 days. If she failed to fall in love with him, he would let her go. He also promised her that he would not touch her intimately even though he was physically and sexually aggressive towards her. After hearing this confession, she was at first very angry with him. Furthermore, she couldn't meet her family in Warsaw, Poland. She made several unsuccessful attempts to escape from his villa. When she ordered her to travel along with him, she rejected to do that. She with him had a scuffle that ended with the result that she accompanied him to his meeting. He took her shopping before the meeting. She continued to show her disinterest to him. He grasped her neck as she refused his orders. She ran away from the shop and sought the men in uniform, but they refused to help her when they saw him behind her. He asked her to accept the situation in instead of running away from it. He presented it as an adventure that fate had given her. She in turn, demanded her laptop and her phone. She called her mother and notified about a job opportunity in Sicily, Italy. It indicated how she had accepted her fate and was ready to stay with as long as he kept her. Simultaneously, she felt that her seeds of love for him emerged. However, he then realized that his love affair would actually endanger her life and his family business.

As they spent time together and sleeping in the same room, she woke up the next morning and see him beside her. She wanted to touch him but she decided against it. She wanted to entice him yearned for. He did the same with an episode of teasing and jealousy. As they spend time together, she teased him and refused to made love with him. Later, he handcuffed her on the bed and made her watch him making love with another woman in the same room. Afterwards, he admitted that he was going to rape her but he changed his mind and ordered her to dress for the club. At a meeting that was taking place at an underground party, she dressed sensually. At the club, she danced and seduced a man from a rival mob family in an attempt to distract him from his business. She planned a serious twist when a man from a rival mob family in question started to gropes her and behave inappropriately, he could not control his temper. He pointing his gun to a man from a rival mob family and shot the man in his hands. After that, she is taken out of from the club. When she woke up on a yacht, she realized that the previous night incident had gone out of hand. He confessed that he shot a man from a rival mob family in his hand. Her silliness led to a fight between two prominent families who started a gang war. She tried to apologize, but he blamed her for the incident. As they were arguing, suddenly she falling into the water. He jumped from the yacht to the water to save her. When she regained consciousness, he admitted that he was afraid of not succeeding and didn't want to lose her. This induced her feeling. She knew that he had chosen to save her. He chose her over the safety of his empire. She realized that she had fallen in love with him. They made love in the yacht. They became inseparable.

The next day, when they attended a masquerade ball party, a woman named Anna approached them, then Anna threatened Laura Biel. He revealed that he was dating with Anna. He told her that he would leave Anna if he already found her. After the masquerade ball party, they made love again. They were madly in love each other. Since that, they fought really hard each other to keep their relationship at all costs to stay together. He sent her to visit Warsaw, Poland. He promised to join her after finishing his business. He told her that he loved her. His best friend named Domenico, tried to reassure her that Anna will not harm her. In Warsaw, she lived in his apartment, she felt awkward after stepping away from him, but gradually she started to take control of her life. She waited for him for days without contact. She reconnected with her best friend named Olga. Olga was shocked to know the details. Olga warned her about the risk that she involved in it. Olga made over her hair that she looked like a different person. At the party, she met her ex-boyfriends again, Martin. He looked for her. He started to follow and asked her for a reconsideration. She was pleasantly surprised to have Massimo Torricelli back in her life. They confessed their love each other. They got married. At their marriage ceremony, only Laura Biel's best friend named Olga was invited, since Olga knew the truth. Olga was initially distressed upon hearing the news. Olga reminded her of the dangers of marrying an Italian gangster, but Olga also knew that Laura Biel was in love.
